

Why Choose the Canadian International School of Paris

Canada is internationally recognized for the strength and quality of its education system. In recent OECD PISA assessments (2022), Canadian students ranked among the top-performing students worldwide, reflecting a strong focus on critical thinking, problem-solving, and student engagement

Canadian offshore schools operate in more than 20 countries worldwide, with over 126 accredited schools offering provincially recognized Canadian curricula.

The Canadian International School of Paris and its teaching staff are fully certified by the British Columbia Ministry of Education and are subject to annual inspections and on-site external evaluations as part of the Global Education Program. These evaluations ensure that program quality, student learning outcomes, and teacher certification standards are consistently met.
